Overcoming contact centre challenges

Contact centres are critical to business success and your customers will strive to find technology that helps them increase day-to-day performance. Traditionally, making a decision on this type of technology has proved challenging - contact centres need the commercial and operational agility of cloud software, but the resilience and voice quality of traditional on premise solutions. BT Wholesale's Hosted Contact Centres (HCC) bridges that gap and offers an innovative solution for you to deliver to your customers.

You'll be able to provide all of this to your customers and turn their challenge into a lucrative revenue stream for your business. And to make it easy for you to tap into this opportunity, BT also provides resellers with comprehensive training, sales and marketing support to get you started.

How HCC benefits you

Expanding portfolio

This is a great chance to expand your portfolio and create new opportunities from within your existing customer base, or to win new clients. For any providers of voice or contact centre services, you'll be able to provide an efficient new offering from a reliable and trusted supplier.

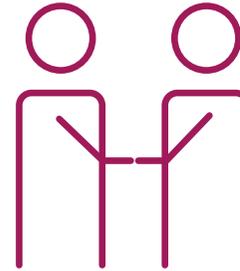

Sales opportunities

HCC is all about “pull through” for service providers and offers the chance to really increase your deal values. For every £1 of software sold, you can sell a further £2-7 of related products and services such as data connectivity, calls and CPE. All this means that a typical deal value for 100 seats can be worth £1m p.a. or more.

Lasting relationships

By their nature, contact centre customers can be very sticky with their ICT providers, and so with HCC you'll be able to establish long term relationships as a trusted business partner to them. With a typical lifecycle of 3-5 years, this helps keep your churn low, and your profits up!

Reassuring reliability

With HCC you'll have complete peace of mind knowing it's a BT backed communications platform. It benefits from robust Service Level Agreements and is backed by a highly skilled 24/7 UK based support team.
